The Toshizo Watanabe Study Abroad Scholarship

About the Scholarship

The Toshizo Watanabe Study Abroad Scholarship provides financial assistance to American undergraduates or graduate students for a semester or year-long study abroad program in Japan. From 2016, a generous endowment gift of $10 million from Mr. Toshizo (Tom) Watanabe to the U.S.-Japan Council makes it possible to award scholarships to students for whom study abroad would not be possible without financial support. The scholarship program grants awards to recipients in amounts determined by financial need and other qualifications. As part of Watanabe Scholarship's initiative to develop the next generation of leaders, the scholars will have an opportunity to participate in a leadership training program during their scholarship year.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. Are graduate and degree-seeking students eligible for this scholarship?

A. Yes. However, the scholarship is only for a maximum of one year of support. If you receive it, you may reapply for a second or third year. But please note that there is no guarantee that you will be awarded again.

Q. Can I combine the Watanabe Scholarship with other financial aid I may receive?

A. Yes, you may combine other scholarships with the Watanabe Scholarship up to the full cost of attendance for your study abroad.

Q. If I am selected, how will I receive the scholarship award?

A. The scholarship award will be paid in one lump-sum, to scholar's institution (either the U.S. or Japanese institution), not to the scholar directly.

About the U.S.-Japan Council

The U.S.-Japan Council develops and connects global leaders to create a stronger U.S.-Japan relationship. It is an organization whose members believe people-to-people relationships are a powerful way to bring together leaders in the U.S. and Japan to address and create solutions to mutual concerns.

The Council is a 501(c)3 nonprofit educational organization that was founded in 2008 and is headquartered in Washington, DC with staff in California, Hawaii and Tokyo. In 2012, the U.S.-Japan Council (Japan) was created to support the administration of the TOMODACHI Initiative, and in 2013, it became a Public Interest Corporation (koeki zaidan hojin). The U.S.-Japan Council (Japan) maintains an office in Tokyo, Japan.
